ROY COOPER
GOVERNOR

CERVICAL CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

2023

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, in North Carolina, 409 women were diagnosed with invasive cervical cancer and 126 women died of cervical cancer in 2022, according to estimates from the State Center for Health Statistics; and

WHEREAS, an estimated 13,000 new cases of invasive cervical cancer are diagnosed each year in the United States; Hispanic women have the highest rates of developing cervical cancer, and Black women have the highest rates of dying from cervical cancer; and

WHEREAS, it is likely that factors such as income, education, access to health care, stress, and racism contribute significantly to the poorer health of racial and ethnic minorities, leading to a greater need for screening and early detection; and

WHEREAS, the North Carolina Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program (NC BCCCP) in the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services provides free or low-cost breast and cervical cancer screenings and follow-up to eligible uninsured or underinsured women; and

WHEREAS, regular cervical cancer screening tests are an effective way to detect the disease early, allowing for early diagnosis and treatment which can significantly increase a woman's chance of survival; and

WHEREAS, increased awareness of detection and prevention techniques among patients and health care providers is a key component in safe-guarding cervical health; with HPV vaccination, as well as routine screening and follow-up, cervical cancer is highly preventable; and

WHEREAS, the State of North Carolina recognizes Cervical Cancer Awareness and encourages all residents to recognize that cervical cancer is treatable, and that routine screening and HPV vaccinations can save lives;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ROY COOPER, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby proclaim January, 2023, as "CERVICAL CANCER AWARENESS MONTH" in North Carolina, and commend its observance to all citizens.

Roy Cooper
Governor

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina at the Capitol in Raleigh this fifth day of January in the year of our Lord two thousand and twenty-three and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-seventh.
